Correspondence THE EVENING STAR.

ROCKVILLE, Sept. 16.

A boy, about twelve years old, named George Cummings, who resided near Great Falls, and who has shown symptoms of insanity for some time, was brought here and yesterday, after examination before a jury, was adjudged to be of unsound mind, and this morning was sent to the Maryland Insane Asylum.

Some speculation is indulged in by many small creditors of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal Company in regard to receiving their pay should the Cumberland and Washington Railroad Company decline to accept the lease granted them by the last legislature and bid upon the canal property without regard thereto. By the terms of that lease they obligated themselves to pay these claims and also 25 per cent to the 44 bondholders, but the recent decree of Judge J. J. McKim makes no provision for paying either. This action, should it be taken, would result in a loss of thousands of dollars to the county, unless the legislature should see fit to make an appropriation to pay the claims of the workmen and others.

Yesterday afternoon about twenty names have been added to the list of voters in Rockville district and these are nearly equally divided between white and colored. No action yet been taken in regard to striking off names under the new law.

Mr. Abram F. Hotelling, formerly of Albany, N.Y., died yesterday evening in the forty-second year of his age. He had for the past two months been residing here with his son, Mr. Chas. E. Hotelling of the United States Life Insurance Company, Washington, and this morning his remains were taken to Albany for interment.

Mr. Archie Falks and Mrs. Hammond were recent daughters of Washington were recent guests of the family of Mr. E. Morgan, this place. Mrs. Thos. E. Bowen of Calvert county is at present a guest in the same family.

MR. BLAINE'S LATEST LETTER.

He Advises New England Men Not to Disregard Western Interests.

HE TALKS ABOUT AMERICAN AND CUBAN TRADE—RECOMMENDS AMERICAN SHOPS AND FARM—FREE TRADERS IN THE WEST—AND THEIR ATTITUDE ON RECIPROCITY.

The editor of the Boston Journal, Col. W. W. Clapp, has published a letter received by him from Mr. Blaine under date of September 15, 1890, thanking, through him, the Boston and Globe Club of Boston for an invitation to attend its annual banquet and expressing regret that his engagements will not permit him to attend. "I am glad to hear," he writes, "that the members of the club are interested in a system of reciprocal trade with Latin America. They can do great good by countering a certain phase of New England opinion, entertained at home as well as abroad, which I must regard as the highest degree of unwise and hurtful to New England interests. New England is to receive in the new tariff the amplest protection for every manufacturing industry within her borders, both great and small, and it will in my judgment be both expedient and injurious for her representatives to disregard measures which will promote western interests. I have lately received a letter from Mr. J. F. Imbs of St. Louis, a leading representative of the four interests and protection of the West, in which he speaks of the grain and flouring interest in that great section Mr. Imbs says that 'advices of recent date from Cuba state that the sugar and tobacco plantations are at a higher rate than at first supposed to be the case. And he adds: 'I respect the fact that the American miller will be unable to retain any part of his flour trade unless immediate relief is secured.'"

Mr. Connell of Nebraska introduced in the House yesterday a bill to establish a branch of the United States at Omaha for the collection of gold and silver. The bill provides $100,000 to carry into effect the provisions of the bill.

INVALIDATING THE OHIO GERRYMANDER.

Mr. Boothman's joint resolution invalidating the recent gerrymander of the Ohio congressional district was introduced in the House yesterday. The resolution provides that the members of the Fifty-second Congress shall be elected from the same district as the members for the Fifty-first Congress were elected from.

NOTES.

Mr. William R. Bates, private secretary to Senator McMillan, has been chosen temporary chairman of the Michigan republican state executive committee to act until Senator McMillan, who is the permanent chairman, will have the necessary time to devote to campaign work in the state. Mr. Bates has had a good many years of political experience and the republican papers of the Wolverine State are saying some very pleasant and encouraging things about him and his prospects.

The Senate has passed the bill appropriating the sum of $150 for the relief of James Graco of this city.

SHOT ON A NEW YORK STREET.

A Deserter Husband Mortally Wounds the Man Who Ruined His Home.

The story of a ruined home ended yesterday in New York the shooting of Francis Birk, a machanic, by George Deitel, an injured deserter. Birk's wound will prove fatal. The shooting occurred at the corner of 41st and Lexington avenue. Deitel shot Birk as the latter came out of Potter, Styman & Company's furniture factory, where the latter was employed. Deitel is an agent for a sewing machine company. He had taken Birk to his home when Birk came from Europe and was on his way to his home. Deitel's friend got work he induced Deitel to leave his home and live with him as his wife. Deitel then put two of his children in an institution.

Yesterday his boy, who lived with him, was taken sick. He was worried as to what he should do with him. As he was walking up Lexington avenue he came upon Birk by accident as the latter came out of the factory. Deitel shot him. In his ante-mortem statement Birk told his wife that Deitel had been previous to the shooting. Deitel said, after he shot him, "Now I am square for my children. Birk is thirty-eight, a native of Poland, and a very good man. He calls himself Mr. Birk, says Deitel had abused her. She did not think he was in his right mind. He had lived with Deitel as his wife for ten years. Deitel had a wife and a child. Deitel married Birk. Her former husband, she said, had never quarreled with the wounded man.

A WARM GEORGIA CAMPAIGN.

Farmers Bitterly Opposed to Gov. Gordon for the United States Senate.

Gov. Gordon's denunciation of Col. Macon, the head of the Farmers' Alliance, and Col. F. Livingston of the Georgia state alliance has so accentuated the differences between the governor and the farmers that his defeat is now almost a foregone conclusion. Early in the campaign Gov. Gordon announced his intention to speak in the different congressional districts in favor of the democratic nominees. This offer is now antagonized by the spectacle of Gordon's friends in counties where the legislative nominees are opposed to him bringing out independent candidates with the view of gaining votes in the legislature for him. Hon. Thos. N. Norwood, it is now admitted, will be the opponent of Gov. Gordon for the Senate. In view of this probability the governor's recent speeches have been referring to Norwood as a "stay-at-home" during the war, which he fortified himself behind a pair of sore eyes. This has aroused Norwood so that he has come to the front. He has been keeping tally of the legislative nominations and has found that there is a majority of ten so-called "stay-at-homes" in the legislature. He has made it necessary to run in opposition. Gordon's independent to change the result.

The state election takes place on the first Monday after the 1st of October, and the legislature meets one month later.

OYSTER CROP THREATENED.

High Tides Cover the Beds With Mud and Warm Weather Sours the Hauls.

South Jersey oyster planters are growing dejected owing to the continued warm weather, which has caused the oyster beds to be covered up with mud, caused by the high tides in the rivers, lakes and bays for the past three days. In Maurice river the oyster crop was never known to be so large before. The planters also report that the crop at Somers Point, Lake's bay and Brigantine shoals is immense. Nevertheless, if a cold snap does not come some sales will be made, as within two or three days the oysters are likely to be covered by the mud. The oyster beds are in the hands of the purchaser to detect, as the oyster will open late and look perfectly fresh. An old oyster dealer says that the oysters are likely to be covered by the mud. The markets throughout the country are carrying small stock.

SUFFRAGE IN MISSISSIPPI.

Senator George's Speech Leads to the Adoption of the Committee's Report.

The event of the day in the Mississippi constitutional convention yesterday was the speech of Senator George. Predictions were free last night in Jackson that his speech so influenced the convention as to cause the suffrage report to be adopted by a majority of 80. In the course of his remarks the Senator denounced the late convention and the elections in Mississippi since 1875 had been open to fraud and fraud. He admitted that there were cases of that description here and there, brought about by peculiar circumstances, but these were only exceptions to a general rule of fair and peaceable elections. He further declared that he would not support the same right to life and liberty and property that the white man enjoys, but he denied that the negro had the right to destroy the civilization of Mississippi, and he declared that the negro should be kept in the state of slavery. The speaker then reviewed the committee report on suffrage section by section and closed by appealing to the convention to save Mississippi from the same fate as Louisiana and to consider the question presented in a spirit of patriotism.

NO EMPEROR FOR BRAZIL.

The People Vote Almost Unanimously for Continuation of the Republic.

The Brazilian elections for members of the constituent assembly passed off quietly. Among the candidates returned are Ministers Bonyay, Glycerio and Vanderholtz. The success of the government republican party is assured. Very few opposition candidates have been returned. The press generally congratulates the government upon the result of the elections. The opposition is not strong. There has been slight disturbance at Ceara; otherwise complete order has prevailed.

Charles R. Flint of New York received yesterday the following cable from Rio Janeiro: "Electoral frauds in Brazil are rampant and quiet. Results of elections show that the country is overwhelmingly in favor of the new order of things. No monarchists and hardly any clericalists are elected."

THE OHIO GERRYMANDER.

Austria's Ruler Preparing to Receive the German Kaiser.

The all-absorbing topic of interest in Vienna is the approaching meeting of the German and Austrian emperors. The Emperor Francis Joseph will start at 8 o'clock in the evening in order to visit the Emperor William in Prussia. He will be accompanied by Prince of Saxe-Coburg, the scene of the Hungarian manœuvres, to Oldenburg, without touching at Vienna.

At Oldenburg, the last station of the Austrian emperor, his majesty will be joined by Count Kalinsky, the Austrian minister of foreign affairs, and will be saluted by Prince Henry of Prussia, the brother of the kaiser, who will travel thence with him in the German court train to Bremen, where they will be received by the Emperor Augustus Victoria. After that they will resume their journey to Schloss Hohenzollern, where they will be welcomed and entertained till the end of the week by the German emperor.

A GERMAN COURT IN TROUBLE.

He Throws a Hotel Farther Over a Balance.

The affair of Count Kleist, who was arrested under the name of Kammer on a charge of manslaughter and lodged without bail in prison for throwing a porter of a hotel over a balcony, was refused to admit him and a strange lady, the reigning sensation in Berlin. Bail to the amount of 200,000 marks was refused. He was released, but as information had been received that the count was making preparations to escape to America and the man Albers, who was thrown over the staircase, was dying from brain fever, brought on by striking his head on the stone floor of the hotel, the count was arrested and taken to prison.
